

TRANSPARENCY IN SUPPLY CHAIN ACT DECLARATION

Originally posted on December 27, 2011 by RR Donnelley, revised October 2016 for LSC Communications LLC or one of its subsidiaries (hereinafter referred to as "LSC")

In 2010, the State of California of California adopted the Transparency in Supply Chain Act, which requires certain retailers and manufacturers to post a disclosure statement on their web site detailing whether, and to what extent, they investigate or monitor slavery or human trafficking in their direct product supply chains.

On October 1, 2016, LSC was spun off from R. R. Donnelley & Sons Company ("RR Donnelley") as a separate, independent company. In accordance with the requirements of the Act, LSC hereby declares that it requires suppliers in its direct product supply chains to comply with applicable laws, will investigate claims brought to its attention regarding the use of slavery or human trafficking by its suppliers and will take appropriate action to discontinue use of a supplier that uses such labor. LSC management is not aware of any claims regarding the use of slavery or human trafficking by any member of LSC's direct supply chains since RR Donnelley was founded in 1864.

Except as disclosed in the preceding paragraph and because there is no known claim of use of slave or human trafficking labor by LSC suppliers in the history of the company, LSC has not (a) reviewed its product supply chains to evaluate and address risks of human trafficking and slavery or employed a third party to audit or evaluate such risks, (b) established entity standards on human trafficking and slavery and then conducted supplier audits to evaluate whether suppliers comply with standards, (c) required direct suppliers to certify that materials incorporated into their products comply with the laws addressing human trafficking and slavery of the country or countries in which they are doing business, (d) maintained internal accountability standards and procedures for employees or contractors failing to meet company standards regarding slavery and trafficking, or (e) provided company employees and management, who have direct responsibility for supply chain management, training on slavery and human trafficking and how to mitigate risks along the product supply chain.
